Dear Akeem and Becky

Hip Hop Psych contribution to Thrive Edinburgh

I wanted to take the time to thank you so much for the amazing session you led for us at our first online ThriveFest event on World Mental Health Day. We invited you both back as your first session with us generated a lot of discussion and interest.

At our online event, you really engaged with the audience and demonstrated how hip hop can bring additional insights into how we understand key issues such as social justice and inequalities and the relationship to mental health. We received extremely positive feedback from participants who joined the conversation from around the world including colleagues from our sister Thrive cities in NYC and London. Your teaching, experiences and creative delivery clearly resonated with people.

I'm really hoping we can work together again soon. We will be doing ThriveFest again this coming October, so will definitely be in touch.

With very best wishes.

Yours sincerely

LM Irvine Fitzpatrick
